Taking in a larger scope of territory, and bringing only the four best from each of these districts will provide exceptional competition in all events. Season tickets for only 25 cents, admitting the holder to all contests during the day will prove an attraction to bring many visitors with the contestants.

The purpose of the expedition is to carry on the work of Charles Darwin.

Small Twisters are Viewed by Citizens No Damage Done

Two small twisters played around in Randall county Tuesday afternoon, but fortunately no damage resulted.

The first sighted was west and southwest of Canyon. This one hit about 2:30, and played over the prairie for several minutes.

A few minutes later another was sighted south of Canyon, which was accompanied by a very heavy rain. It was believed that this was more in the form of a waterspout than a twister owing to the large amount of rain which fell during the afternoon.

Randall county has escaped twisters which did any material damage, except in one instance several years ago when one dipped down east of the city and did considerable damage.

R. L. MARQUIS DIED SUNDAY AT HOME IN DENTON

Former Faculty Member

Served As President Two Teachers Colleges
in State

Dr. R. L. Marquis died at Denton Sunday from heart disease. He was president of the North Texas State Teachers College, and a former member of the faculty of W. T. The funeral services were held Tuesday at Denton, representatives from W. T. being President J. A. Hill, Dr. B. F. Fronabarger, D. A. Shirley and R. A. Terrill.

Dr. Marquis came to Canyon in 1910 as a member of the original faculty chosen by Dr. R. B. Cousins to start the college here. After serving as head of the department of Biology for eight years he was selected as president of Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine. In 1923 he was transferred to the teachers college at Denton, and H. W. Morelock was taken from the faculty of W. T. to succeed him at Alpine. For a number of years, the eight teachers colleges in Texas had as their presidents, Dr. Cousins, and three members of the faculty which he gathered to open W. T. in 1910—J. A. Hill, R. L. Marquis and H. W. Morelock.

Dr. Marquis has been in poor health for the past six years. Teacher training in Texas has been greatly influenced by the life and work of Dr. Marquis. The three institutions in which he has served have been the leaders in educational thought of the state.

Surviving are the widow, and two sons, Robert, Jr. and Richard.

Illness Improves; Heaviest Epidemic Here Since 1918

Illness in Randall county has decidedly improved during the past week, according to physicians and druggists.

"There has been more illness this spring than at any time since 1918," stated J. J. Walker, yesterday. "The improvement is cheerful news to all citizens."

The number of deaths in Randall county has been very large this winter.

Attendance in the schools is getting back to normal following the epidemic.

Must Clean Up Cow Pens By May First

If you have an unsanitary cow pen this means you; haul off the manure if you have not done so; clean up and keep clean. The only way to have a sanitary cow pen is to pile up the droppings every morning and sprinkle lime on them. As City Health Officer, I am asking you to do this. Cow pens are the breeding place of flies, hence if we have flies some one has an unsanitary cow pen.

We crave your hearty co-operation in this matter. Time limit for cleaning up is May first.

F. M. WILSON,
City Health Officer.

Panhandle Rotary Club Gives Pro- gram Here Tues.

The Panhandle Rotary Club was here Tuesday night for an inter-city meeting with the Canyon Rotary Club. Twelve Panhandle Rotarians were in the group to visit the Canyon club.

President Vet Ingham called upon Oscar Gano of the local club, who extended greetings to the visiting Rotarians.

A. A. Callaghan of the Panhandle club had charge of the program, introducing the numbers.

The Panhandle quartet sang two groups of songs.

J. L. Graham talked on the "Missing Link in Education." This he described as the development of character. The schools are teaching many other subjects, which are not nearly so necessary as character, and this he believed should be one of the principal subjects of the educational system.

Among the attributes of character which should be emphasized are honesty, thrift, loyalty, heroism, enthusiasm, courage. Ample illustrations from history were used to drive home the various points advanced by the speaker.

Colonel E. R. Coppock spoke briefly upon the work at the Palo Duro State Park, and urged that those who had not visited the Park to do so at once. "Very few Panhandle people realize the beauty of the Palo Duro," stated Colonel Coppock.

C. Wesley Batchelder was called upon for a reading in closing the program.

Panhandle visitors present were: M. L. Purvine, J. A. Reader, J. L. Graham, M. B. Walsh, Joe Rorex, Frank Paul, A. A. Callaghan, P. I. Crum, J. W. Adkins, J. L. Naylor, G. O. Pruitt and Dave Warren.

Roy Johns was introduced as a new member of the club.

Mrs. Will Terrill of Clarendon visited Saturday at the home of Mrs. David Thomas.

Certificates Ready For Stockmen Wishing to Move Cattle

As a result of the TB test recently completed in Randall County, the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission has added this county to the list of accredited counties. As a result of the test recently made, less than one-half of one percent of the cattle of the county are affected with tuberculosis.

The test was made as a part of the CWA work, through the co-operation of the state and federal governments. Stockmen are highly pleased with the result of the test, and the fact that Randall county was completed before the CWA program was abolished. The free test saved the stockmen of the county several thousand dollars, in addition to the fact that the county is now on the accredited list of counties.

Lewis C. Crabb, state veterinarian, has sent County Agent W. H. Upchurch certificates to be used by shippers who may desire them. The certificates will be issued from the office of Mr. Upchurch. "This is of value to livestock owners and shippers will be able to take advantage of any values that may accrue from cattle originating in an accredited county, when accompanied by certificates of accreditation," stated Mr. Crabb.

"Shippers should have ear tag numbers on all cattle that were tagged when applying for certificate," stated Mr. Upchurch.

School Display to Be Shown Tonight In Entire System

The P. T. A. of the public schools will hold a program tonight at 7:45 for all patrons and friends interested in work in the public schools.

Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo will talk on the subject, "The Child in His Community."

After the program, all of the rooms will be opened for display of the work being done this year. Parents are urged to go to the rooms of their children and witness the display.

Southwest's Bandit Team

Clyde Barrow, southwest desperado, and his woman accomplice, Bonnie Parker, known as "Suicide Sal," sought in an intensive manhunt throughout five southwestern states, are shown here. For the snapshot above, found in a Joplin, Mo., outlaw hideout, the girl posed as a typical "gun moll."

Highway Funds to Be Released Will Aid Randall Work

Randall county will profit by the release of the special $8,900,000 drought highway fund, which will be made available according to a message Tuesday from Washington.

This money will be used in completing the state highway system, and not on lateral roads. This position was taken last fall by the state highway commission, but the relief office in Washington had demanded that work be confined to lateral roads.

The release of this money probably means the completion and topping of the Goodnight Trail to the Palo Duro State Park without further delays.

It will also mean that the beautification program between Canyon and Amarillo will be continued. Building of the park on the T-Ancor farm will be included in this program.

Building the park south of Canyon along the Tierra Blanca creek will be started soon. Continuing the tree planting, and other means of improving highways will be continued. Most of this work was interrupted when CWA was disbanded.

Rain Amounting to .43 of Inch Falls In Canyon Tuesday

The first rain of the spring fell Tuesday morning and afternoon in Canyon. The rain in the early morning amounted to .38 of an inch, which was followed by a shower of .05 of an inch in the afternoon.

Most parts of the county received rain Tuesday, with possibly the lightest fall coming to the Canyon vicinity.

A heavy rain was received over the south part of the county. More than an inch fell in the Ralph community. Lakes were filled as the result of the sudden and heavy downpour which amounted to almost a waterspout.

RECRUITS FILL CCC COMPANIES AT PALO DURO

WORK PROGRESSING

Completion of Projects
Before Men Leave
May 2nd

Recruits to fill the CCC companies at the Palo Duro State Park are coming in every day, states Colonel E. R. Coppock, commanding officer at the Park. By the end of this week it is expected that all companies will have 200 men each. More than 50 men arrived Saturday from Fort Sill, while a delegation of 67 arrived Sunday from Dallas. Smaller groups have been arriving daily since last Thursday.

Colonel Coppock has received authority to transfer men so that all men who wish to stay at the Palo Duro after May 2nd may do so. At that time Companies 1824 and 1829 will be transferred to Temple and Troy for summer work. Any of the men in these two companies who prefer to stay at the Palo Duro will be given the opportunity to transfer.

All phases of work at the Park has been carried on the past week, although the smaller number of men since the first of the month greatly handicapped construction. Now that all companies are at full strength, great progress will be made until the two companies are transferred.

1,000 pecan trees were set out last week along the creek where the dam is being constructed. Other trees will be added during the spring.

Road work, lodge construction, building trails to the beauty spots of the Park, and completion of the first dam are all being pushed as rapidly as possible.

The committee on naming spent Sunday at the Park visiting many of the points of interest. Names selected by the committee are submitted to D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Parks Board, who in turn will suggest them to the Department of Interior under whose supervision all CCC work is being done.

No official announcement has been made by Mr. Colp regarding the superintendents and foremen who will remain after May 2nd, but this statement is expected during the coming week.

Budget For W. T. Will Come Before Board on Saturday

Members of the Board of Control will visit W. T. Saturday for the purpose of investigating the needs of the institution in making the budget for the coming two years.

Dr. J. A. Hill has been notified of the visit, but members of the visiting party were not designated. Chairman Claude Teer and W. S. Meyer, together with J. D. Hall, statistician, will probably compose the visiting party.

COOK HAD OPERATION

Dr. Harris M. Cook underwent an operation for appendicitis at an Amarillo hospital Tuesday night. He was reported yesterday to be recovering from the operation in a satisfactory manner.

HAIR HAS OPERATION

Carl Hair underwent an operation Monday in an Amarillo hospital. He was reported yesterday as improving.

Roscoe Britain of El Paso is here to visit at the home of his mother.

THE BEST CANDIDATE, OR THE WINNER?

The question confronting every gathering of voters in Texas is, "who is the leading candidate for Governor?"

The question is seldom put, "who is the best candidate?"

In other words, it is human nature to seek the bandwagon.

There are six "leading" candidates for governor: Small, McDonald, Allred, Hunter, Hughes and Witt. Political observers believe that the bunch is off in the race almost neck and neck. Political observers believe that the two leading candidates may be less than 15,000 votes in the lead of the other four. Therefore, picking the winner out of this six will be a hard problem.

There will probably be 900,000 votes cast this year. The two leading candidates may not receive much more than 155,000 votes each in order to place in the second primary. Therefore, something like 750,000 voters will not get their first choice in the governor's race.

The big majority of voters must take a second choice in the second primary.

The most effective battle-cries against any popular candidate is, "Don't waste your vote, he has no chance." The bandwagon appeal is very effective in this modern age of so-called enlightened politics.

At the present time, five of the candidates are trying to break the solid majority of Clint Small in West Texas with the appeal, "He has no chance." Four years ago, they worked it successfully down in the state. This time, Clint Small is well known throughout Central Texas, East Texas, and South Texas. He is gaining strength every day in these sections. Very few of the people from West Texas have an opportunity to make direct contacts with voters in those sections, therefore, the propaganda is being used in West Texas in this campaign.

Panhandle voters are not going to be deceived by this talk. They know that Clint Small is their friend. They know that he has fought for their interest during the past six years while a member of the senate. They know that he is a safe man for the state, who will not be shaken from his path of duty, or who would use the governor's office to further his own personal ambitions.

West Texas voters are going to support Clint Small in the first primary, not from the standpoint of sectional pride, but from the standpoint of returning a favor to a man who has always stood for and fought for their good, at the same time recognizing the rights of the people of every section of the state. They know that Clint Small is not merely a sectional candidate, although he happens to hail from the Panhandle. They recognize the fact that if he lived in any other section of Texas, and knew the people of the Panhandle and their needs as he does now that he would stand up for their rights.

Four years ago, Clint Small was dubbed as a sectional candidate simply because of the land bills passed through the legislature over his name; yet, it was the votes of South and East and Central Texas members who passed the bill when informed of the merits of these bills.

West Texas people have only one thing to do, decide whether or not Clint Small is the best man in the race to be governor, and if they so decide, upon his public record, then vote for him regardless of the appeal the other five candidates may make. Only a few more than one-sixth of the people of Texas will get their first choice.

Personally, we would rather have it be known that we selected the man whom we believed to be the best qualified, than to be branded as a bandwagon hopper. Knowing Clint Small, his ability, and his wonderful work in the legislature, we are convinced that there is none other in the race better qualified to be governor, and we shall vote for him knowing that if he is elected Governor that Texas will be in safe hands.

A nation wide drive against the distribution of hand bills is being made by citizens who do not wish to have their lawns littered up with all kinds of waste paper. Not more than 50% of the hand bills distributed are ever picked up by those for whom they were intended. The balance go to make the town unsightly, and to cause extra trouble and expense for those who would keep their premises tidy. Uncle Sam maintains an efficient postal system for the purpose of reaching the people of the community. This system should be used by those seeking to reach the people. The largest advertisers have long ago found that the newspaper was the most successful and most efficient manner in which to reach the buying public. Messages in the newspapers are welcomed into the homes. Handbills littering up the lawns are not welcomed by the home owners.

Taking the profit out of bank robbery is the only way this crime will be stopped. So long as bandits may walk into banks and gather up several thousand dollars, they will continue to run the risk of being shot. The new order from the national and state banking authorities for banks to carry very limited funds in their vaults, and to have only small amounts of cash out of the vault during the day will take the profit out of bank robbery. In the meanwhile, counties are providing their police departments with machine guns so as to combat the bandits when they show up. All citizens should do their part in the effort to rid the nation of this class of undesirable citizens. They may do their part by co-operating with banks and local police authorities.

From all indications, governmental aid will rapidly decrease to the vanishing point so far as work relief is concerned. The federal government believes it has done about all that it should do for the people until winter time approaches once more. The state has money available only for the most needy. The work program has been so badly demoralized that counties may expect little for the future. Unless the Panhandle succeeds in getting the special road appropriation made last fall, it is believed that all of the public projects will be discontinued in the near future. As discouraging as the outlook is for those who need work, little hope may be extended under present conditions.

The shake up in the state relief commission will bring nothing good to the state. Removal of members of the commission at the will of those who appoint them to office means that the commission will be directed according to the whims of those clothed with the power of appointment, rather than according to the will and knowledge of the members. This case will be taken to the courts for final decision. In the meanwhile, those in dire need will suffer while the commission waits to see who is who, and what authority the members of the commission really possess.

It is not gratifying to hear of the misfortunes of other sections, excepting for the fact that it makes Panhandle folks realize that they are not so bad off after all. The entire middle west is going through a severe drought, and dust storms have broken out records. Last week one swept over the Mississippi Valley which was more severe than anything the Panhandle has experienced. When recovery time comes around in earnest, the Panhandle will excel all sections of the United States in a returning to the splendid condition it enjoyed a few years ago.

The legislature will have something else to talk about in its next session—the number of relatives on the State pay roll. Perhaps there are many cases of rank abuse, but when simmered down to facts, it will be found that should only one of any family be allowed state employment, the state will lose many valuable employees. Private enterprise considers only ability in choosing its employees; the state could do well in staying strictly with this program.

Teaching Pays, They Find

Col. O. W. Hoop, left, and Mary Spellman have found that teaching pays, even nowadays. When he tried to show his pupils that an average man couldn't beat a political machine, Colonel Hoop, U. of Tulsa (Okla.) professor, ran for police and fire commissioner of Tulsa. His students stumped for him, and he won handily. And so numerous were the former pupils of Miss Spellman, Beaver Dam, Wis., school teacher for more than half a century, that when they decided to elect her mayor of the city, she was swept into office by a big majority.

Perhaps the most telling form of flattery is a letter from a steamship company quoting rates on a voyage around the world.

First Hitler, then Mussolini, get almost unanimous votes of approval from their people. When Germans or Italians vote, they've got to make up their mind one way or the other: "yes" or "of course."

You can recognize the typical American anywhere. He is asking somebody for a match.

Votes held in Germany and Italy recently to indicate confidence in Hitler and Mussolini were overwhelmingly "yes." Seems as if dictators are turning Europe into a land of nod.

If Hat's to Be Chic, It's Up to the Brim

WIDE CHOICE OF COLORFUL FEATHERS, FLOWERS, OR FRUITS IS AVAILABLE FOR TRIMMING SPRING BONNETS

BY HARRIET

BRIMS continue to be the most important spring hat news. And for sheer flattery, they can't be beat. You can have a small brim, pulled down over the right eye; a medium brim worn straight across the forehead; or a big one, worn just any way at all.

Even the girl who likes those off-the-face bonnet types can suit her fancy and still be in fashion with a brim.

For the newest bonnet-hats have broad brims, worn off the face in front and so constructed as to hug the back of the head. Coat collar hats are in this category.

For years, it's been a nuisance to wear a brimmed hat with a coat, but brilliant hat designers have eliminated that handicap now so you can get a brim that flattens at the back and allows the collar to come up over it, eliminating the chance of your hat being knocked forward.

LOOK for fanciful trimming on your spring bonnet. Maybe the little feathers that are softly rolled will please.

If not, there are straight feathers, lacquered in vivid reds, greens, yellows and purples that certainly give a hat an air.

Diminutive flowers — perhaps sprigs of spring blossoms or gay little clusters of red, white and blue silk anemones will please the nature-loving. And bunches of fruit such as cherries, small oranges, or miniature apples are for the woman who likes a bit of color on her hat, but at the same time isn't interested in flower ornaments.

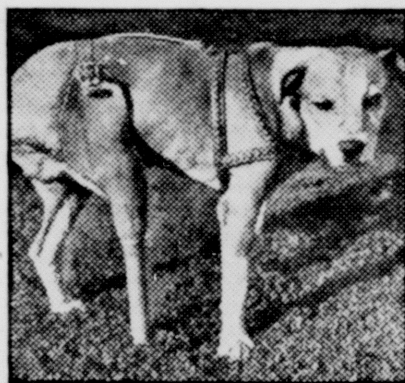

"COUNTRY CLUB" is the name of a brown pique straw hat with a flattering creased crown, medium brim, and band of the same straw.

The brim is faced with pale apple green suede and a bunch of vivid red cherries is posed on the side. It's the perfect type of hat to wear with spring tailcoats, and with suave street dresses when it gets too warm for a coat.

Another spring hat that will be smart all summer combines three new style points. It has an off-the-face effect, a coat collar brim-wide in the front and flat against the back of the head — and brilliant cherries tucked under the brim above the left ear.

The brim is made of yellow leghorn and the crown of Irish lace is dyed to match.

The College congratulates Mr. Golden upon his success which has resulted in his appointment to this responsible position.

YOUTH IS NOT A TIME OF LIFE—IT IS A STATE OF MIND

It is not a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips and supple knees. It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions; it is a freshness of the deep springs of life.

Youth means a temperamental predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite for adventure over love of ease. This often exists in a man of fifty more than in a boy of twenty. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old only by deserting their ideals.

Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair—these are the long, long years that bow the head and turn the growing spirit back to dust.

Whether seventy or sixteen, there is in every being's heart the love of wonder, the sweet amazement at the stars and the star-like things and thoughts, the undaunted challenge of events, the unflinching child-like appetites for what next, and the joy and the game of life.

You are as young as your faith.

As old as your doubt;

As young as your self-confidence,

As old as your fear;

As young as your hope,

As old as your despair.

In the central place of your heart there is a wireless station, so long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, grandeur,

When the wires are all down and all the central place of your heart is covered with the snows of pessimism and the ice of cynicism, then you grow old indeed and may God have mercy on your soul.

Wal, folks, I see that them vol-ley ball gals shore got it poured on 'em by them pore old faculty souls last Thursday. Beg your pardon faculty, from forty to forty-five isn't so old, is it?

I see that most uv you got turby scart when Dan McGrew got shot. I ain't blamin' you cause that's what I call real wild west cowboy stuff.

It shore seems that that thar Baby Show had great influence over two high school students. A conversation was overheard after the stunts, down on Fifth, you know, the house where the porch light burns until the Little Miss-tress gets in. Well, they was in the porch swing and the Little Miss was a - sayin' "Sweezums, little tootsie-wootsie, does little tootsie-wootsie want to go bye-bye with pretty lady?" I don't know, but I guess that called for a walk.

One of the high school teachers said that this little Miss talked in her sleep all that night. That's funny isn't it? The teacher said she continually mumbled, "Oh, you are so precocious." Who wouldn't be at that age.

Hey, all you handsome guys ought to be hangin' around the high school about 9:15 to 9:30 every senior play practice night, cause there's really sumpin' doin' about that time. Isn't that what you say, Scoop?

Sarie, what's that guy's name you wuz with Saturday night? He's kinda fast isn't he, or how could he have run the 100 yard dash in .96? You know that to go with Caldwell is sumpin, Sarie.

I have just gotten a letter from the business men of the town and they request that all you courtin' gent do your courtin' in Canyon, or in the vicinity. Spend your money in Canyon.

Here's for the Sophomores. CACTUS CAL.

Home Ec. Girls Plan To Attend H. E. Conference

The three classes of Home Economics had a contest Wednesday night, to find out the girls that will go to Austin. This was a contest similar to the one that will be held at Austin, April 27-29.

The contest involves: "Child development and family relationships," "clothing and posture," "foods and hospitality," "household decoration and furnishings."

The home economics conference has met in Austin two times before. Last year it met in Mineral Wells. There the home economics girls won three points, a perfect score was six.

Grade School Rises Higher In High School Interest

The grade school boys and girls, who seem to be rising higher in high school interests, had three cyclone boxing matches for the athletic club Tuesday night in the school stunt contest, and sent essay and declamation representatives to the District Interscholastic League meet at Amarillo.

The very ambitious boxers did not get to show their real "stuff," due to the fact that only two one-minute rounds were allowed. Donald Oleson vs. David Morris, was the first bout; Roy Rogers vs. W. J. Wooten was the next, and Billy Black vs. Johnnie McBroom was the closing bout.

The fifth, sixth, and seventh grades are carving all kinds of objects from soap, while the seventh grade pupils are making booklets of their last days in grade school.

Mary Charlotte Word, an essay writer, Walter Richerson, and Polly Cluck, declaimers, entered the District meet at Amarillo.

What a funny time these soap carvers must have. They are making forts, guns, Alamos, animals, historical structures, and many other things, but what do you think the seventh grade is putting in its booklets? They are putting pictures of themselves, their pals, and their sweethearts. They are also writing them full of autographs. Will these not be happy memories of their last days in grade school?

Who's Who

When I asked the famous football hero, Sewell Jackson Cox, where he was born, he answered, "I was born on a farm down in Iowa," but that isn't so, because I happen to know he was born on a farm near the grand old town of Lockney, Texas, October 10, 1917. I then asked him if he were born on a farm or in town, and he replied, "On a farm, can't you tell it?"

The Cox family moved to Happy when Sewell was four years of age, and there they lived for seven years, where Sewell entered school at the Garrison school when he was seven.

Moving to Pampa in 1927, the family lived there two years, and as city life did not agree with them, they moved to their present residence, five and one-half miles northwest of Canyon.

In 1930, the Coxes went on a long tour, the first place of interest that they visited being San Francisco. They also visited Yellowstone National Park, Crater Lake National Park, Zion National Park, and Grand Canyon National Park.

Sewell was president of the B section in the sixth grade, the B section of the seventh grade and the freshman class. He lettered in football and track in 1933, and in football in 1934. I asked Sewell why he didn't letter in track this year. He said, "I might have, but I had to have the old measles."

His opinion of the sophomore girls is, "I think they are keen, especially some of them."

Pan-American Day Is Celebrated By Assembly Thurs.

Pan-American Day, April 14, was celebrated in Canyon High School, Thursday, April 12, with an assembly program given by the Spanish Department, sponsored by Miss Jewel Foster.

The assembly sang "America, the Beautiful." A proclamation was read by Freida Lowry and was followed by "Pan-American Day, Origin and Significance," by Jack Oldham. "La Paloma," a piano duet given by Laura Ferne Brian and Lee Christine Cousins, was followed by "The Life of Simon Bolivar," by Billie Bee Flesher. Irene Mullins, Rowena Lockwood, Winnie Dee Hicks and Chloie Hall sang "Himno a Simon Bolivar," after which Sherman Higdon told of "Our Friends in the South." Twenty-one countries were represented by the flags and national anthems of each.

The program was concluded by "America" sang in Spanish.

Sophs Good Natured And Industrious, Says Sophomore

The sophomore class as a whole is a very good natured and industrious class, for instance: Winters Hair, an excellent example of sophomore intelligence and industry, is never seen except with a gleeful smile from ear to ear. Winters works hard in classes and is seldom seen sleeping in class.

The students of the sophomore class are never a hindrance to the teachers. Leslie Lisle, Jack Taylor and Wandel Johnson get along perfectly well with Miss Brasuel. All sophomores are good to do their part when called upon, and are also very intelligent. Harold Byars, star of the class in high grades, reports that he might get an E instead of an F in algebra this six weeks, if he can persuade Miss Clark.

As a whole, the sophomore class is doing very well this year.

DID YOU KNOW?

Carruth and Warwick Donate Books to C.H.S. Library

Among the many new books received by the library of C. H. S. this spring, the latest donations includes: As the Earth Turns, by Gladys Carroll; Lively Lady, by Kenneth Roberts, and The Contribution of Robert Bartow Cousins to the Educational Development of Texas, by Henry A. Davis.

As The Earth Turns, is a 1933 publication and is one of the outstanding novels of the year. It deals with the New England farm life during each season of the year. This book was donated to the library by Mr. I. B. Carruth.

From the record in the library the students are enjoying Lively Lady, which Mr. Carruth also gave recently, and look forward with great pleasure in reading this one: The Contribution of Robert Bartow Cousins to the Educational Development of Texas, was published in 1934 by West Texas State Teachers College.

This book was donated to the library by Mr. Clyde Warwick.

12 Sophomores Take Foreign Language

It seems that foreign languages appeal to the sophomores more than the other classes. The freshmen have only eight students in a foreign language course; juniors, four; seniors, one, and the sophomore's, smallest class in school, had twelve students.

Of the thirty-three sophomores in Canyon High School, twelve of them are taking foreign language. Six of these students are taking Spanish, second year. They are Lecy Mae Furlow, Estill Furlow, Gerald Dean Heath, Billie Bee Flesher, and first year Spanish, J. V. Moore.

Those taking Latin are Hal Gamble, Jack Taylor, Myrtle Chitwood, Joe Morris, Mary Ella Davis, Sarah Bonnie Bourn. All of these students are studying in the second year.

Golfer Runyan's Going Great Guns . . . Yank Infield Has Perked Up . . .
Watch This Year's Davis Cup Team!

BY PHILIP MARTIN

YOUNG Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., golf pro, surely can use that spoon of his—and we don't mean the soup variety. Acknowledged the best welder of that golf club in the game, the Hot Springs, Ark., boy finished the winter tournament circuit at the top of the heap of the money winners.

Last year Runyan gave notice of what to expect of him this season when he finished second to Craig Wood, the Deal, N. J., pro, in money winnings. He started right out this season by coping the National Capital City Open at Washington, and went on through to win the Pasadena, St. Petersburg, Belleair, Tournament of Gardens and Cavalier open titles, and tied for the mid-South crown.

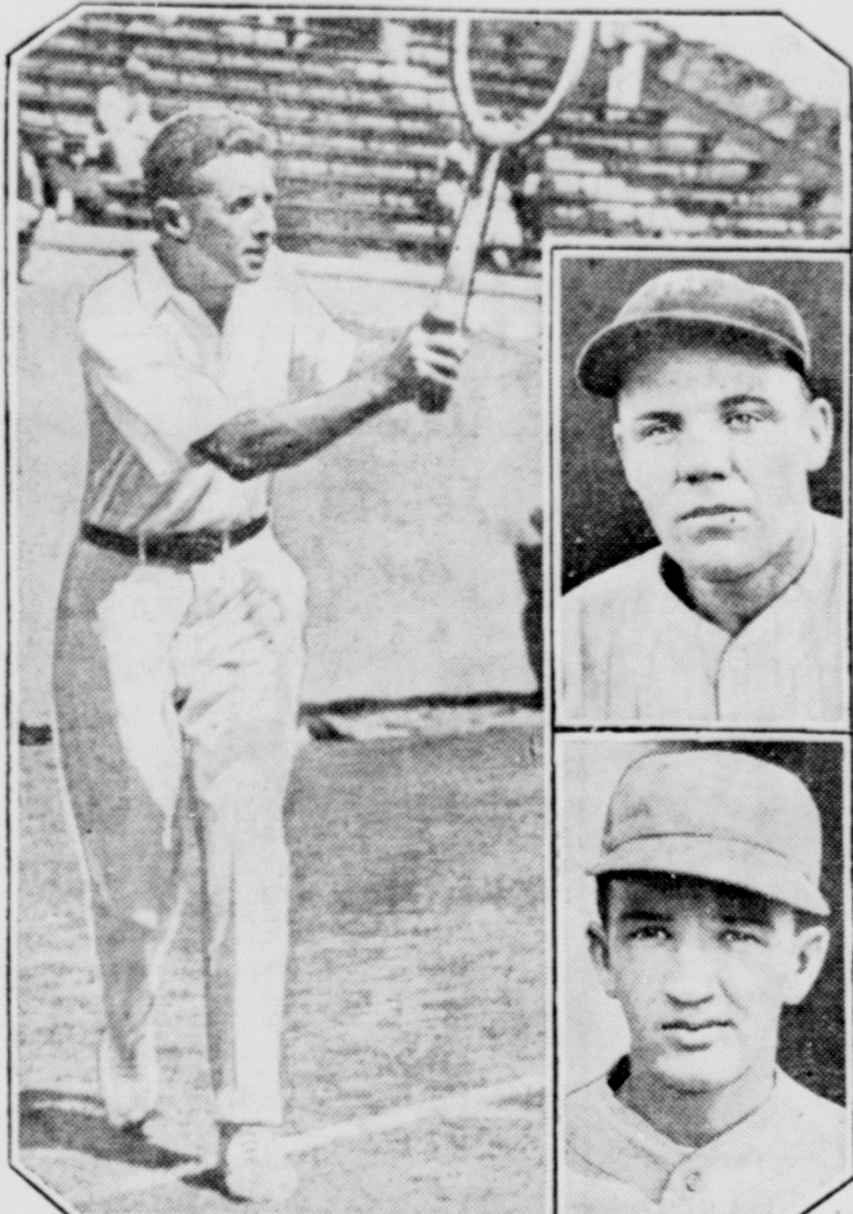

These victories, together with currency won in other matches, brought his earnings up to more than $6480, which led Horton Smith, second place winner, by more than $1200.

By his winter performance, Paul promises to be a real threat in the National Open and P. G. A. meets this year. It wouldn't surprise Philip to see him cop both classics.

TWO youngsters seem to have patched up that Yankee infield hole out around the keystone sack. They are "Red" Rolfe and Don Heffner. Both boys hail from the International loop, Rolfe coming from the Yank farm at Newark, and Heffner from Baltimore.

Rolfe, a shortstop, and Heffner, who plays second, have been the talk of the Yankee squad ever since they joined up this season. Red has led the team in hitting, and Heffner has flashed just about the best second basing the Yanks have seen for some time.

The one big drawback to starting these two at such a vital point of the infield is that both are green. The general procedure in baseball has been to break in a green infielder alongside a veteran. Joe McCarthy, however, probably figures that Lou Gehrig at first and Tony Lazzeri at third will wield enough steady influence on the youngsters to hold them down. Then, he calculates, if they succeed they'll be an unbeatable combination.

Under the guidance of R. Norris Williams, above, its captain, the U. S. Davis Cup team is expected to do things this year. At right are Robert A. (Red) Rolfe, above, and Don Heffner, below, shortstop and second baseman respectively, who may patch up that Yank infield hole.

SOMEONE is due to get a surprise when the U. S. Davis Cup team gets into action. The failure of last year's team has left American tennis followers somewhat dubious about the status of amateur tennis here.

They can't see anything but defeat for the U. S. squad after the team of Vines, Allison, Van Ryn, and Lott dropped the nod to England in the challenge rounds last year.

But the gloomy onlookers haven't taken into consideration the lineup of the 1934 outfit!

In the first place, we'll have a new captain, R. Norris Williams. A former Davis Cup great himself, Williams will be sure to have his squad in condition—something that was reported to be pitiful in the 1933 team.

Williams' first call for practice has brought Frank Shields, Les Stoefer, Sidney Wood, Wilmer Allison, and George Lott. There are three newcomers there—Shields, Stoefer, and Wood. And that new blood is just what Williams needs.

Historical Society In Annual Meeting Held on Friday

Officers Re-Elected; Hear
Talks From Newspaper
Editors

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society in its annual meeting Friday chose the same officers to serve for the coming year that had served during the past.

H. E. Hoover of Canadian is president, W. H. Patrick of Clarendon and Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon are vice-presidents, L. F. Sheffy of Canyon is secretary, and W. L. Vaughan of Canyon is treasurer.

Owe No Debt

Reports for the past year disclosed that the society had received $921.16 and had spent $885.98. The balance on hand, $35.18, was a delight to the members who on their last annual meeting learned that the society had 34 cents in the bank.

R. C. Crane, of Sweetwater, president of the West Texas Historical Society, was the principal speaker of the afternoon session. His address dealt with serious and humorous incidents connected with the organization of West Texas counties.

News Men Featured

Newspaper men were featured on the banquet program. Herbert Hillburn, editor of the Plainview Herald, being toastmaster, and Ray H. Nichols, editor of the Vernon Record, principal speaker. Others appearing on the banquet program were H. E. Hoover, J. M. Russell of Amarillo, and Judge L. Gough of Amarillo. Mexican music by Senorita Maria Flores and Senor Jose Ramos was a feature of the banquet.

More than 200 people who attended the meeting were surprised to hear from Floyd V. Studer that the museum contains the largest collection of meteorites in Texas and that the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society is known all over the United States for the excellence of its work in the fields of archaeology and paleontology.

Museum Is Famous

Mr. Studer, who is curator of these two subjects, called attention to the fact that the outstanding scientists of these fields have made repeated visits to the museum during the past year, the most recent having been that of Warren K. Moorehead, dean of American archaeologists. Studer showed that a great amount of work had been accomplished at no financial cost to the society, and called attention to the fact that an archaeological conference will be held in Canyon soon.

The historical society voted to make all past presidents ex-officio members of the Board of Directors, and T. D. Hobart of Pampa, who was the president of the organization during the building of the $50,000 museum was first to take the office of honor. He was enthusiastically cheered when he thanked the members for their action.

Committee Named

The nominating committee of the society named R. P. Smyth of Plainview, J. A. Hill of Canyon, H. E. Hoover of Canadian for places on the board of directors. Mr. Hill and Mr. Hoover succeed themselves.

L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the society, reported that 29,628 visitors have registered in the museum since April 14, 1933, and that the greatest day since that date was Sunday, April 8, when 757 names were added to the register.

Gets New Equipment

Other additions mentioned by Professor Sheffy were the addition of eight show cases to the equipment, and the acquisition of two mural paintings, which came through Federal aid to the artists, Ben Carlton Mead of Amarillo and Harold Bugbee of Clarendon. These pictures will be hung within a short time, Mr. Sheffy said. The work of Dr. Angie Debo, who has been in charge of the museum since last September was highly commended by Mr. Sheffy.

Plans for the coming year include a widespread drive for membership.

YOU naturally expect Phillips 66 to be higher test than other motor fuels, when you know that Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline.

Just look at the gravity (or high test) figures, at the right. They prove that your expectation is 100 per cent correct.

Then ask yourself why Phillips publishes these figures month after month, while others do not! Obviously the reason is that Phillips figures are higher, that Phillips welcomes any and all comparisons based on fact.

For tired engines, this greater gasoline is a real Spring tonic : : scientifically matched to the weather by the Phillips pioneer principle of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. Every gallon is high test, and every high test particle puts new snap and power back of each inch of piston travel. Liven up acceleration. Adds mileage, too!

Since you don't have to pay a penny extra for it, how can you possibly lose by trying a tankful! PHILLIPS with PHILLIPS the very next time you see the Orange and Black 66 shield.

Kappa Omicron Phi Delegates Are En- tertained at W. T.

Many of them seeing Texas for the first time, the half-hundred delegates who gathered on the campus of the College Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the Fifth National Conclave of Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary home economics sorority, were given an opportunity to see Western scenery and to eat Western cooking. The local Zeta Chapter, host to the group planned the three day round of social festivities and trips to local scenic spots.

Opens With Luncheon
The conclave swung into action Thursday with a luncheon at the College cafeteria at which time Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the College, extended a welcome to the visitors. The response was given by Miss Hettie M. Anthony of Maryville, Missouri, national president. Mary Ellen Morgan of Amarillo, president of Zeta Chapter, introduced the delegates.

A feature of the afternoon was the play, "Rich Man, Poor Man," presented by the Dramatics club under the auspices of the Home Economics club. Those who composed the cast were: Addeline McDonald, William Hawkins, Horace Hickox, Maizie Patton, Ethel Rowland, Ernestine Walker, Fern Landers, Jerry Kerbow, Theresa Oglesby, Arlin Hartzog, and Lella Cooper.

The visitors were given a buffet supper in the Zeta dining room at 7 o'clock, and were guests of the college at the Upton Close lecture in the auditorium later.

At the luncheon Friday at the cafeteria the group, who begged to be introduced to a "real cowboy" were given an opportunity when Dr. Hill presented Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian, a pioneer cowman of the Panhandle.

A trip through the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum, under the direction of Miss Hattie M. Anderson of the history department, was followed by a talk on "The Palo Duro Park," by Miss Darthula Walker, head of the geography department. Following the talk the delegation was motored to the park, where they enjoyed a supper served chuckwagon style around the campfire. Atmosphere was furnished by the T-Anchor Cowboys and their trick roper, Howard Weatherby.

A colorful climax to the meeting was the bridge-luncheon given Saturday by members of the Amarillo Alumnae Chapter at El Tacos club in Amarillo.

At this time it was announced that the national officers had been re-elected for another two-year term. It was not decided where the 1936 convention would be held. A bouquet of red carnations was presented Miss Anthony by members of the various chapters, and linked bracelets of white gold bearing the coat of arms were presented to the national officers and members of Kappa Omicron Phi. This latter gift was a present from a jewelry company in the north. Gladiolas furnished the table decorations while gum drop cactuses were unique place favors. Small pictures suitable for framing formed the combination menu and tally cards.

Members of the Alumnae Chapter are: Mrs. W. E. Miller, Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel of Canyon, and Mrs. Georgia Holtzclaw, Mrs. Mary Kate McDonald, Miss Maggie Arent, Miss Ione Red, and Mrs. Dewey Reed of Amarillo.

New Bills Enlist Government Aid in Finish Fight on Gangland

THROUGH a number of anti-crime bills, recently introduced in Congress, Uncle Sam plans to help the states put the underworld "on the spot." Until now, he has simply played adviser to the individual states in the matter of law enforcement, putting in a few licks himself only in the cases of kidnappers who violated federal laws by sending ransom notes through the mails.

The new measures would empower the government to team up directly with the states in banishing the racketeer and gangster. The need of such co-operation has been apparent since the Lindbergh tragedy and subsequent crime waves revealed the power and ruthlessness of gangland. Heretofore, constitutional duties of the states have kept the government from joining in the fray.

THE new bills are aimed at kidnapers, bank robbers, jail breakers and, in fact, anyone who tries to resist or flee the law. They were developed as a result of the inquiry into gangs and rackets held recently by the Senate committee headed by Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York.

Under these laws, important witnesses would not be able to escape testifying by fleeing beyond the jurisdiction of a state. If they leave the state, a five-year sentence and a $5000 fine would await their return.

If a racketeer extorts money and is captured, he would face a 99-year jail term, plus a fine equal to the amount of money taken from the victim.

Robbers of banks under federal supervision would be punished when nabbed by fines of $5000 and 10 years' imprisonment, or the death penalty if violence or murder accompanied the robbery.

Assaulting a federal officer would bring a $10,000 fine and a 10-year jail sentence.

Organizing or helping in jail breaks, smuggling drugs, messages, weapons, and jail break tools into prison each would lead to a 10-year jail sentence.

Kidnaping a person across state lines carries a life sentence. If the kidnap victim is held more than three days, federal agents may take part in the chase, on the theory that a state line has been crossed.

Anti-crime measures recently brought before Congress were drawn up as a result of the Senate probe into underworld activities, conducted by Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, right. These measures, says Attorney General Homer E. Cummings, left, would permit Uncle Sam to co-operate with the states in stamping out organized crime.

Use of radio, telephone, telegraph or any other means of sending a ransom demand would bring a sentence term up to life.

ACCORDING to Attorney General Homer Cummings, these new bills would give Uncle Sam almost a free hand in co-operating with states to stamp out organized crime. And the facts seem to show need of such co-operation.

In recent years, the annual crime record of the United States shows something like 12,000 murders, 3000 kidnappings, 5000 cases of arson, 40,000 cases of theft or burglary, and 100,000 cases of assault, to mention only the more serious offenses.

Annual cost has been figured at $15,000,000,000—five times as much as it takes to run the federal government, and four times the annual expense of our schools, colleges, and universities.
